To whom it may concern,

This is to serve as a letter of recommendation for Neva Bassingthwaite, who has worked with us here at Maple Bear as both a kindergarten and elementary teacher since March, 2013.

Neva has had a variety of responsibilities which she has always handled in a professional, but passionate manner. Neva shows deep caring and commitment to the learning of her students in terms of their well-being and academic achievement. Her passion for educating and for her students is exemplary. Our school's success depends much on the effort and reliability of our teachers. Neva stands at the top of our academic body in her reliability to create comprehensive resources both independently and with her fellow teachers. In supplementing curriculum, Neva creates outstanding materials, such as reading comprehension and science worksheets. In addition to these, she develops creative lesson plans which complement the structure of our own curriculum. Importantly, she also shares her work with her fellow teachers in a timely and appreciated manner. Without a doubt Neva is at the top of the academic body here at Maple Bear. Her sincerity for teaching is inspiring and her pleasant outlook on life is refreshing for the office. She is looked upon as both a leader in efficient teaching and classroom management.

Neva is a very active person whose abilities as both an athlete and as a gardener gave students a positive role model to look up to. We will deeply miss Neva's presence here at Maple Bear. She is a highly valued member of our staff and would be welcomed back anytime. Her commitment, compassion, and hard work will not be so easily replaced. That said, it is with full confidence that I recommend Neva Bassingthwaite for any position she applies for. Her work ethic, passion for teaching, and attention to detail should not go unappreciated.
